REAL PURPOSE OF U. S. IS PENETRATING WEST

Thoughtful Men Are Beginning To Understand, President Wilson Declares

WILL ATTACK POLITICAL RIGHTS OF NO NATION

Purpose Is Establishment of International Justice and Safety

FEATURES OF WILSON LETTER

The United States will not attack the political independence or territorial integrity of any nation.

Thoughtful men in the Western hemisphere are beginning to see the real purpose of the United States.

The president's object is the establishment of international justice and humane dealing and safeguarding of universal interests.

He seeks to unite opinion of the world in protesting against flagrant violations of right and international justice.

He never entertained the slightest idea of any combination of special benefit to the United States.

The war has strengthened the common bond between the democracies of the western hemisphere.

The United States gives the most sacred pledges and expects similar pledges from other nations of the world who have its peace at heart and are willing to associate themselves for the maintenance of that peace.

New York, Jan. 29.—The United States "will in no case be the aggressor against either the political independence or the territorial integrity of any other state or nation," declared President Wilson in a letter made public today with his consent.

"At the same time," he continued,
"she is proposing an insisting upon similar pledges from all the nations of the world who have its peace at heart and are willing to associate themselves for the maintenance of that peace."

"The very strength of her appeal in this direction comes from the fact that she is willing to bin herself and give pledges of the utmost solemnity for her own good faith and disinterestedness."

The letter was addressed to Roy W. Howard, president of the United Press, on the eve of his departure for South America. It was in reply to a letter in which Howard called attention to the widespread efforts still being made by German propagandists in South America to misinterpret the purpose of the president in urging other American republics to join in the fight "to make the world safe for democracy."

It is the president's opinion that the German propagandist in South America has about exhausted his effectiveness and that slowly but surely a clear understanding of the true attitude and purposes of the United States is becoming general in the southern republics.

The president's letter in full, follows:

"The White House,
Washington, Jan. 16, 1918.

"My Dear Howard:
"Thank you for your letter of the 12th.

"I don't know what reply to make to the first question your propounds.
Certainly I never had anything in mind in regard to co-operation among nations which would be particularly advantageous to the United States.
My thought was only to unite the opinion of the world so far as I could in protesting against the flagrant violations of right and of international justice which had been committed.
At no stage of this distressing war have I ever entertained the slightest idea of making any combination for the special benefit of the United States. My thought has been merely the establishment of international justice and humane dealing and the safeguarding of universal interests.

"With regard to the question whether er the war and the participation of the United States in it has served to strengthen the common bond between the democracies of the western hemisphere, I will say that I think it has.
I think that thoughtful men in all the democracies of that hemisphere are beginning to see the real purpose and character of the United States. She is offering in every proposal that she makes to give the most sacred pledges on her own part that she will in no case be the aggressor against either the political independence or the territorial integrity of any other state or nation, at the same time that she is proposing and insisting upon similar pledges from all the nations
heart and are willing to associate themselves for the maintenance of that peace. The very strength of her appeal in this direction comes from the fact that she is willing to bind herself and give pledges of the utmost solemnity for her own good faith and disinterestedness. If this is understood, there could be no question of fear or suspicion.

"I am very much interested to learn of your proposed return to Latin-America, and I wish you bon voyage with the greatest heartiness.
"Cordially and sincerely yours, (signed) "WOODROW WILSON."

The letter is particularly significant at this time because it is known that for several months the government has been cognizant of the insidious effects of the German agents in South America. The Germans maintained an effective organization throughout the continent, which for a long time the United States had no effective means of combatting. The improvement in the situation is attributed to the policy of the United States in seeking nothing for itself except what it asks for every other democracy in the world. That the real aims and objectives of this country have finally been made clear is attributed to a large extent to the improved exchange of news between the Northern and Southern continents, the lower cable rates and the efforts of the committee on public information. The South American diplomats at Washington, in close touch with the actions and policies of the United States, are said to have contributed materially to establishing the better understanding.

U. S. SENATE WAR PROBE IS TURNED TO BUREAU HEADS

SEC'Y. BAKER TELLS CLEAR, LOGICAL STORY OF WAR
PREPARATIONS AND OUT-LINES REASONS FOR STEPS

Washington, Jan. 29.—Acting on the advice of Secretary of War Baker himself, the war department investigating committee has decided to postpone cross examination and to turn their attention to heads of various bureaus. The committee met today to map out further plans of their investigation.

At the close of Secy. Baker's statements Monday evening none of the senators were ready with questions of importance so thoroughly had the secretary covered the ground.

In answer to the criticism that U.
S. army guns and other "munition supplies are being furnished in France and England he pointed out the advantage of such arrangement declaring that one of the greatest handicaps is the shortage of tonnage.

He referred further to an agreement July 13 with English and French manufacturers whereby big guns were to be furnished the U. S. army for one year and longer if necessary. He stated that this was not only an advantage to America but to France and England as well.

America will have 500,000 men in France early this year. She will have three times that many ready to send before 1919, according to Secretary Baker in reply to Senator Chamberlain's assertion that the war department had "fallen down."

Mr. Baker admitted there had been delays in preparation.

"We could not delay sending men to the cantonments until the last button was on the last coat."

"Major-General Leonard Wood advised me to send the men to the camps, saying they would have a lot to learn before they would have need for rifles."

He rehearsed in detail the enormous achievements of war preparation here and abroad.

For the most part, the secretary was not interrupted. He came armed with a mass of papers, but referred to them seldom, speaking in clear, incise language, without effort and in a logical progression.

Interesting revelations were frequently made. At one time the secretary described a midnight conference in his office at which the Enfield army rifle was selected on the eve of General Pershing's sailing. At still another moment he told how the Russian breakdown and the Italian defeats had switched the war plan.

The secretary repudiated the suggestion that the argus-eyed German secret service had been able to learn how many fighting men there are now in France.

"Why have you not let the public into your confidence on this point?" asked Senator Chamberlain.

"I hesitate to do so," replied the secretary. "I have here an article in which von Hindenburg contemptuously says the Americans advertise their preparations."

Charges of mistreatment of troops in hospitals, Secretary Baker said.

BLACK COFFEE, BEER AND SODA WATER IS DIET

That is Food of Hundreds of Poor Children In Chicago, Says Mrs. Finn

HIGH MILK COST
MEANS STARVATION

Urges Municipal Milk Stations To Eliminate Delivery and
The Middle Man

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Beer, black coffee and soda water is the daily diet of hundreds of Chicago's poor children, according to Mrs. Rose Finn, president of the Mothers' league.
Hundreds are dying because the price of milk is too high. Similar conditions are said to exist in most large cities.

"Further increased milk prices will mean starvation for the poor children and families," Mrs. Finn said today. "At least 25 per cent of the children will suffer. I have investigated and found children suffering because of milk costs."

"Mothers were feeding weakened condensed milk, beer, strong black coffee and soda water. They don't realize what this means to a child, but even if they did they can't do otherwise."

"Municipal milk stations is what we want and need. Go and get your own milk and eliminate delivery and the middle man."

SMILEAGE BOOK SALE IS UNDER WAY IN CITY the city is urged to buy at least one afford to aid in giving the boys in camp clean entertainment. There are one-dollar and five-dollar books.

Each contain coupons which will admit the soldier having the book, to any liberty theatre and to other entertainments approved and arranged by the government.

The sales in Ypsilanti will be promoted by the following committee:
A. G. Erickson, chairman; F. H.
Nissly, D. B. South, G. C. Handy, W. H. Latham, Mrs. John P. Kirk, D. H. Roberts, Stanley Morris, Mrs.
W. H. Kishler, Miss Genevieve Clark, H. E. Van de Walker, Fred L. Gallup, treasurer.

CUT URGED ON ALL PASSENGER SERVICE TODAY

PRESIDENT OF B. AND O. RECO-MMENDS FIFTY PERCENT
CURTAILMENT FOR COAL
SHIPMENTS

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 29.—An immediate curtailment of fifty per cent in passenger service on the National railroad was urged today by President Daniel Willard, of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, to give freer movement of coal, war supplies and munitions. Willard declared fuel-less days would continue unless drastic reduction is made in passenger service travel.

"I have a boy in France now, I want to see that boy and every other American boy back home when the war ends," said Willard. "If suffering some inconvenience is all we can do to get those boys back home, every American should be glad of the chance to make these sacrifices."

lowing Americans are mentioned in Rapids, Iowa.

COMPROMISE IS SEEN IN CABINET FIGHT

Statement of Secy. Baker Before Committee Monday Halts Agitation

CONGRESS FAVORS
NEW APPOINTMENT

Edward R. Stettinius Is Expected to Aily Handle War Purchasing

By L. C. Martin

Washington, Jan. 29.—Secretary of War Baker's astounding statement of American preparedness before the senate military committee has given some pause to the strong agitation for complete re-organization of the war department.

But his lack of information on some details and committee suspicions of inaccuracies in others, led to resumption of the military probe today with the aviation service as an objective.

Apparently the fight for a "war cabinet" and a minister of munition launched by Senator Chamberlain, is in status quo. Belief was stronger today that while Chamberlain will continue to press for the measures, a compromise will be reached later in view of Baker's recent sweeping changes in the character of his war administration. Appointment of Edward R. Stettinius to co-ordinate production, purchase and distribution of army supplies has met with wide congressional favor.

Those demanding a war cabinet, however, state that if Stettinius succeeds it will be through sheer personal force backed by authority delegated by Baker. If doesn't get the purchasing department well in hand by thirty days, he will resign, these senators predict.

They leaned to the view that he will not be able to succeed, because he has no authority from congress and because he is approaching only part of the problem, leaving the navy, the shipping board and the allies as competitors for the same things the war department is buying.

Baker's statement that 32 national guard and national camps are full of men ready to be sent to France, when needed, was challenged today. Committee members will obtain figures showing how many men each division is short. They claim Baker created the impression 32 entire divisions are available, whereas, the fact is, they assert, that nearly every national guard division is short several thousand men.

PAPERS RETRACT CHARGE AGAINST COUNT CZERNIN

SAY HE WAS REQUESTED TO SEND ADVANCE COPY OF MESSAGE TO PRES. WIL-SON BUT REFUSED

Amsterdam, Jan. 29.—Denial that Count Czernin, Austro-Hungarian Foreign Minister, sent a copy of his recent outline of peace to President Wilson prior to speaking, was made by the Berlin Tageblatt today. Several Berlin newspapers had previously carried such a report.

The Tageblatt declared that Austro-Hungarians urged Czernin to do this but he refused on the ground that the American president would learn of the offer from the newspapers.

WHEATLESS DAY AND LIBERTY BREAD FOR WEST

MILLERS SAY SUPPLY OF WHEAT IS LOW AND LITTLE IS BEING BOUGHT, NO SUGAR

IN SIGHT

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Wheatless day and liberty bread will be deciding factors in the middle-west's newest shortage—flour. Millers announced the supply of wheat is low and little is being brought in. Bakers plan to ask the food administration to increase the price of bread, claiming the new victory loaf costs more. The sugar shortage today shows no sign of improving.

HOOVER WANTS POWER TO HAVE RULES ENFORCED

Otherwise Congress Must Bear Grave Responsibilities
For Failure

RESTRICTIONS AND
LIMITATIONS NEEDED

Would Prevent Unnecessary Consumption and Control
All Distribution

Washington, Jan. 29.—Herbert Hoover today warned congress that if he is not given the power to enforce food conservation in the country, congress alone shall bear the "grave responsibilities" for failure of the food program.

Voluntary conservation, Hoover said in a letter to Representative Sydney Anderson of the House agricultural committee, is showing wonderful results. But, he adds, there is the minority of unpatriotic who discourage the faithful and who cannot be reached except by legislation.

Hoover declared in his letter he wants the power to enforce the following:

Wheatless and other "less" days per week.

Limitations on food served in non-food products.

Control of distribution that all classes and localities may fare alike and that unnecessary consumption should be prevented.

Control of use of foodstuffs in food manufactures with a view to eliminating the less essential manufactures.

Control of commodities critically necessary for the production and preservation of foodstuffs in order to prevent great losses or military sacrifices.

RUSSIANS ARE WORRYING THE TEUTON CHIEFS

FEARING ILL EFFECT OF LIT-TURE ON SOLDIERS GER-MANS MOVE MANY TROOPS

Washington, Jan. 29.—German war chiefs worried at the effect of Russian propaganda on Teuton soldiers along the eastern front, are transferring large numbers to other sectors.

The army general staff, making this announcement today, declared the Germans are violating their pledges to the Russians not to send eastern forces to the west during the peace negotiations.

GERMAN AIR MEN ATTEMPT RAID

NO REPORTS OF DAMAGE OR CASUALTIES ARE ISSUED,
ONE MACHINE IS BROT
DOWN

London, Jan. 29.—German air raiders twice tried to drop bombs on London last night. The official statement said they crossed the Kent and Essex coasts, the group between 9 and 10 o'clock, and the second after midnight. Some machines penetrated to the city and loosed bombs. One enemy machine was brought down by British airmen in Essex.

No official statement of damage or casualties had been issued up to an early hour this morning.

Word was received Tuesday of the death of Barney W. Dolan, who was shot Sunday evening in Chicago.

Mrs. Margaret Wallace of this city and she has gone to Chicago.

The deceased was chief detective for the railroad company and well known here.

were given in the telegram which announced his death although it is presumed that came at the hands of a gang who had threatened to "get" him.

CONGRESS AFTER AGENT OF THE MEAT PACKERS

Federal Trade Commission Expects to Find Connecting Link in Schemes

LIVINGSTONE MAY HAVE INTERESTING STORY

Washington Banker and Packer Representative Is Recalled to Stand

Washington, Jan. 29.—Disclosure of the connecting link between the meat packers and congress in the schemes to throttle anti-packer legislation is expected today in the federal trade commission's investigation of the meat packing industry.

Coin H. Livingstone, Washington banker, railroad president and packer representative, was recalled to the witness stand to tell what he knows of the packer lobbying. His testimony promised to bring out several new angles in the packers' nationwide scheme to dominate both the food market and the lawmakers.

Through the correspondence which passed by Livingstone and the packers, investigator Heney expects to develop proof of the channels thru which the packers worked at defeating antagonistic bills and to throw light on the men who were the packers' tools. It may also reveal the leak by which the packers obtained information as to pending action of the federal trade commission.

Testifying Friday, Livingstone was forced to admit he had not delivered to Heney all of the packer correspondence in his possession. Since that time, however, Livingstone has scoured his private files while an agent of the commission looked on.

ing at 7 o'clock at the high school.

DEATH WILL BE INVESTIGATED

FRIEND OF OSWALD SAYS SHE WAS NOT ILL AND HAD NO NEED FOR TREAT-MENT

New York, Jan. 29.—Autopsy was to be performed on the body of Miss Emma K. Oswald, 28, of Los Angeles, Cal., who died last night while undergoing "chiropractic" treatment.

Miss Mary Alvarado, who came here with Miss Oswald for a visit three weeks ago, said her companion had not been ill and that she could not understand why she was taking any treatment. The police took charge of $3,000 worth of jewelry and several hundred dollars in cash which Miss Oswald had with her.

Miss Oswald was a daughter of the late Nicholas Oswald of Los Angeles.

French Lieutenant Foresees Change In War Conditions Due to Aviation

HEAVY GUNS AND GOOD MEN WILL FINISH WORK

Looks For Air Machines Able To Make Hundred and Fifty Miles An Hour

By W. S. Forrest

With the French Armies in the field, Jan. 29.—Aeroplane capable of a speed of two and half miles a minute, pitched battles between great numbers of machines on a side; systematic allied air raiding of Germany's great munition-making centers hitherto almost immune and generally, double the air activity of the past year.

These are some of the things French Under Lieutenant (now major in the American army) Raoul Lufberry, of Wallingford, Conn., sees for the coming twelve months in the air.

He does not believe that aircraft will finish the war.

"Heavy guns and trained men will put the finishing touch to it," he declared. "But aviation in all its branches, will undoubtedly play its big role and certainly a larger role than ever before during the coming year. Personally, I don't look for any startling new inventions. We will have a steady and rapid improvement of existing material. The final outcome of it is, of course, difficult to forecast though it is certain that the next few months will see much faster and more powerful aeroplanes on both sides. It would not surprise me if we were able to fly at least 145 miles an hour by spring and 155 miles before end of the year. And I mean average flying at those speeds and not occasional spurts."

"Few land battles in the future will be without important aerial co-operation on both sides; the larger the battle the more machines engaged above it," the flyer continued. "This means big clashes in the air—more machines. Generally as air effectiveness increases and it is being feverishly increased on both sides, the fighting over the lines will not only be far more intense than last year, and between speedier and more powerful machines, but between increasingly greater numbers and larger groups."

"Constant night bombardments with large fleets of allied machines on enemy munition making centers are not only now possible, but promise to have an important part in the outcome of the war. Groups of heavily armed bombing planes, each carrying more than a ton of high explosives, can raid the most important of German munitions towns and be practically immune from attack in the air. In the darkness they can steer by compass, launching their bombs and turn back homeward."

"Smaller and faster aeroplanes are practically helpless in the darkness against big heavy armed raiders. The latter have a fixed object; that of dropping bombs as they pass over the targets. The former are on the 'hunt' and it is no secret they are at an extreme disadvantage with their light armament against the more numerous guns of the larger machines."

"It is common knowledge that most German munition centers are systematically laid out in enormous blocks covering hundreds of acres. They present targets not easy to miss, even from a high altitude."

"Of course the Germans will make similar raids, but they will not have the advantage of finding allied munitions works built in the form of vast aerial targets. They would have to swoop low where anti-aircraft guns can get them."

"Unless the Germans find some new way of protecting their shell factories they are due for a very uncomfortable time."

PUTS BAN ON ANNEXATIONIST PEACE PROPOSAL

Petrograd, Jan. 29.—"We will never conclude an annexationist, imperialist peace," was the message to the Pan-Soviet congress delivered today by Foreign Minister Trotsky.

The congress was also advised by an official statement from Smolny institute that twenty regiments of Don Cossacks had joined a revolt against General Kaledin, Hetman of the Cossacks.

OFFICERS FAIL TO PROTECT COAL

DECLARE THEY ARE UNABLE TO COPE WITH DEMAND HUNDREDS ARE MAKING FOR FUEL

Detroit, Jan. 29.—Forced by suffering in many instances by death, hundreds of Detroit men and women, unable to obtain coal in a legitimate way, are stealing it from yards and trains. Such thefts have reached such volume that officials admit they are unable to cope with the situation.

According to reports made to the fuel administration's offices Monday, fully 35,000 tons of coal have been stolen within the last six weeks.

Officials of the Grand Trunk railway report that two cars of coal consigned to the Diamond Coal & Coke company were hardly switched into the Milwaukee Junction yards before a crowd of fully 200 men, women and children swarmed upon the cars, and both were unloaded in less than two hours. Of the cars, barely five tons remained.

Sixteen arrests were made during the day by the police, and four by railway special officers. During the last four days 55 persons have been convicted of stealing coal and paid fines of $5 or more.

Ten of those convicted are serving slight jail sentences, because unable to pay a fine.

Most of the convictions were in the courts of Justice Stein and Sellers but the justice of Highland Park and Hamtramck also have heard a number of the cases.

were acted on vigorously and he pointed out the war department only last week refused to permit mere dismissal of two army doctors who mistreated soldiers, but insisted they should have prison sentences in addition.

Senator Chamberlain's speech, Mr. Baker thought had given the country the impression the deficiencies complained of "were characteristic rather than occasional." For that reason he deplored its effect, but he emphatically declared he came before the committee not to defend individuals, deny delays, or false starts.

"But," said he, "I think I can say in confidence that in them we have sought the remedy."

Statistics of manufacture in this country of artillery were given by Secretary Baker, some publicly and some to the committee in confidence. He said for example, that the first three-inch anti-aircraft gun was delivered this month and that its production "is rising steadily" to an estimate of 300 per month, maximum.

Secretary Baker said the idea had gotten abroad that the American army uniform is part shoddy. He declared it is all wool and that shoddy is put only in overcoats and blankets.

Sites for the camps and cantonments were next taken up by Mr. Baker. He detailed the war college's study of the subject, and its recommendations that departmental commanders be required to select camps in their respective jurisdictions with regard to healthfulness, freedom from overflow, or climatic conditions interrupting training and other desirable and non-desirable considerations.

Turning to the delays in the war, Secretary Baker spoke of what he said was a "plan for the war." He said there was a plan, but that it was so extraordinary that it had to be studied abroad. I don't know how the committee and the country feel about it, but I want to say there is a plan. Its the only possible plan under the circumstances.

Mr. Baker told of the coming of the British and French missions with Balfour and Joffre. These men were seen in the halls of congress, but few people saw the staffs of trained experts they brought with them and who distributed themselves through the war department.

"They were the most brilliant men in their armies," he said. "Every country has sent us that sort of experts."

Even as these experts talked, Secretary Baker said, the story they told grew old. Weapons they had helped to develop had become obsolete before they could be gotten to the front.

"Although not contemplated at the outset, we have organized regiments of railroad men who are re-building railroads behind the British and French lines as they advance." Of such quality were these men they threw down their picks and shovels, grasped rifles and distinguished themselves.

"Now let us be frank with each other. Has any army in history since the beginning of time been so raised and cared for as this army has been?"

In conclusion Mr. Baker earnestly assured the committee that the war department welcomed every criticism that might help it find its own defects and urged the members to bring in every report of shortcomings and failures.

BIRTH OF A NATION TO BE SHOWN HERE

Following three years of world-wide triumph, the magnificent spectacle "The Birth of a Nation," produced by David W. Griffith at a cost of $500,000 will come to this city for a limited engagement at the Martha Washington theatre next week.

Important in the showing of this art creation of history and romance is the incidental music, embracing melodies appropriate to each incident, and interpreted by an orchestra of eight pieces.

It is an impressive story, wonderfully told, that is revealed on the screen. Slavery, one of the prime causes of the Civil War, is shown at its beginning. Then there is Lincoln's first call for volunteers, a ball on the eve of the Battle of Bull Run, the first triumph for Confederate arms, Sherman's devastating march to the sea, the burning of Atlanta, the siege of Petersburg, Lee's surrender to Grant, the assassination of President Lincoln, the sad days of Reconstruction and the final redemption of the South by the Ku Klux Klan.

A deep and abiding love interest is based on the incidents taken from Thomas Dixon's story "The Clansman." Henry B. Walthall, recognized as one of the foremost players appearing before the camera, heads the cast, then there are Mae Marsh, Lillian Gish, Miriam Cooper, Ralph Lewis, Joseph Henabery, George Seigmund, Mary Alden, Raoul Walsh, Spottiswoode Allen, Josephine Crowell and many other favorites, all of whom lend distinction to the ensemble.

WAY OPENED FOR WOOD CUTTERS

EDISON TEAMS ABLE NOW TO GET THROUGH WITH MEN. GOOD WAGES ARE BEING PAID

Through some misunderstanding the idea seems to be prevalent that men cutting wood on the Edison farm are not being paid. This is a mistake. Men are urged to go because it is a patriotic duty. The city needs the wood and all that stands between the city and a good supply of fuel from this source is the labor necessary. But this labor is not solicited without compensation.

About ten men went from here this morning. More are expected tomorrow, and the team will continue to leave each morning as long as there are men to go.

SAYS HOT WATER
WASHES POISONS
FROM THE LIVER

Everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it, before breakfast.

To feel as fine as the proverbial fiddle, we must keep the liver washed clean, almost every morning, to prevent its sponge-like pores from clogging with indigestible material, sour bile and poisonous toxins, says a noted physician.

If you get headaches, it's your liver. If you catch cold easily, it's your liver. If you wake up with a bad taste, furred tongue, nasty breath or stomach becomes rancid, it's your liver. Salty skin, muddy complexion, watery eyes all denote liver uncleanness. Your liver is the most important, also the most abused and neglected organ of the body. Few know its function or how to release the dammed-up body waste, bile and toxins. Most folks resort to violent cathartics, which is dangerous, salivating chemical which can only be used occasionally because it accumulates in the tissues, also attacks the bones.

Every man and woman, stick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of Limestone phosphate in it, to wash from the liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, the poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Limestone phosphate does not restrict the diet like calomel, because it can not salivate, for it is harmless and you can eat anything afterwards. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless and any pharmacist will sell you a quarter pound, which is sufficient for a demonstration of how hot water and limestone phosphate cleans, stimulates and freshens the liver, keeping you feeling fit day in and day out.

This pure oil from corn for shortening and all general cooking improves food quality—and saves animal fats.

IT has taken American ingenuity to solve the fat problem—to find a practical, wholesome vegetable oil for shortening, deep frying, sauteing—something that will enable us to save butter, lard and suet.
The result is Mazola—a pure, wholesome oil refined from golden American corn.

Mazola has taken the place of the old cooking mediums—because housewives find that it gives more satisfactory results.

And since Mazola is a vegetable oil it makes it easy for them to follow the plans of Food Administrator Hoover.

Mazola is economical—not one single drop is wasted—it can be used over and over again as it does not transmit taste or odor from one food to another.

Get Mazola from your grocer in pint, quart, half-gallon or gallon tins. The large sizes give greatest economy. Also ask for the free Mazola Book of Recipes—or write us direct.

Your money refunded if Mazola does not give entire satisfaction.
